In this Sunday's Gospel, we hear the story of Jesus healing the deaf man with a speech impediment. Here is when Jesus speaks, 'Ephphatha'—that is, 'be opened' and his ears were opened and his speech impediment was removed.

How do God and the Gospel open our eyes, ears and hearts? How are our lives transformed—indeed, made different?

The Gospel calls us to see with eyes of love and acceptance. In our humanness, we tend to notice only differences in people. These differences bring judgement. With hearts opened by God, we see every person and our earth as our neighbours, deserving of respect and care.

God calls us to hear the Gospel with open minds and hearts, and also to speak that message with our lives. May we hear God speaking to us: "Ephphatha! Be opened." And then, both seeing and hearing, transformed by new sight and sound, may we be catalysts for change in the world.
