Gospel Reflection

The call that goes on... and on...

I am sure many of you watched the two programmes on RTE this week The Last Priests and The Last Nuns in Ireland – speaking to priests and nuns who may (or may not) be the last ones to walk the streets of Ireland. What was striking was that none of them seemed too worried that this may be the case – they may be saddened but not worried – we may ask WHY?

For the answer look at today's Gospel, in the beginning Jesus called Simon and Andrew and then James and John and they left their fishing boats and followed him – answering his call, to what they were probably unsure at the time, but it unfolded as they spent time with Jesus and then when he left them he commissioned them to continue to hand on what he had begun.

Over the years many people have continued to say yes to the call – to follow, each in their own way. This same call comes to us as we sit here in this Church today, we who come to listen to the Word and share in the Body of Christ are called, called to mission. We are to leave here today as people sent forth to bring the message of Christ alive in our world today.

Will you say YES?
